Lease hunters and gas prospectors swarmed over the countryside, as experts strove to harness the uhleashed Meeker Natural Gas gusher, since last Friday sending up a 90,000,000 cubic foot flow per day to represent a loss of nearly $100,000 every twentyfour hours.

News of the "blowing in" of the gusher, which came in with a roar ast Friday and has been flowing ininterruptedly since; has brought a swarm of prospectors and lease hunters to the region.

Today they worked over the county, prospecting for likely lo-cations for another "strike."

Meanwhile, a score of workers rushed here from Wooster, O., and Oklahoma, battled to control the Meeker well, eight miles from

Wearing gas masks and safety belts, the workers are attempting to cap the well by the Halliburton process, which consists of sinking two metal sheaths in the shaft Concrete is then forced under pressure between the sheaths to provide a staunch retaining wall for

YOUTH SHOOTS WAY

FLANO, III. Feb. 26.-Posses of omega and citizens today conducted a widespread manhunt for Augre Beamon, 20-year-old youth who last night shot his way to freedom from the county jail here, probably fatally wounding Marshal Lyle Selper and seriously wounding Marshal Clifford Abel.

The youth escaped in his autooutside the jail.

Seamon was taken in custody at the request of Rockford, Ill., authorities who said they wanted the youth for a robbery.

Counties Are Pawns In Gerrymandering Chess Game

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26.-Like chess players moving pawns, six state senators today transferred whole counties from one congressional district to another and back again in what they admit is probably a futile attempt to gerry-mander Ohio in time for the 1932

The game they are playing with the map of Ohio as a chess-board while awaiting the March 4 recess of congress and the March 3 decision of Attorney General Gilbert Bettman as to whether election of congressmen-at-large is constitutional today had brought out these significant political facts:

Many Cities Report Disturbances; New York Enjoys Peace

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Two hundred persons were arrested in Tokio when police dispersed a meeting of Communist sympathizers who sought to stage a demonstration in observance of international unemployment day, according to Exchange Telegraph dispatches.

A survey of reports on Communist activities throughout Europe indicated that continental demonstrations, most violent in Germany, resulted in five deaths and hundreds of arrests. Five persons were critically wounded and scores suffered minor injuries.

While parts charactized the day as a "complete red failure," demon strators in Berlin looted shops and attempted to stage meetings throughout the city. All serious casualties occurred in Volksmar

IN POLITICS

The Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals declares that Bishop James Cannon. Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South is a victim of "relentless and unscrupulous" persecution that has "obviously been animated by political and class motives."

Any such persecution, if it exists, should stop, as the board hopes the neck of a crane. it will; but it is beyond the power of even the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals to undo the scriptural observations that they who take the sword shall perish by it.

When Bishop Cannon left his pulpit for the political arena he exposed himself to the risk of attack, as every other politician does. As York City. long as those attacks do not cross the bounds of decency, whining about them is not very sportsmanlike.

Which teams will emerge triumphant in the seventeenth annual Greene County class B basketball tournament at Xenia Central High gymnasium this week-end? No, don't tell us. Let us guess.

Providing everything runs true to form, Ross Twp. poys should retain their title and either Bellbrock, defending champion, or Jefferson Twp. should cop in the girla division.

Favored teams, however have a faculty of not always living up to expectations in a tournament, a great deal hinging upon the luck of the draw since the "seeding" system is not in vogue.

Ross boys have comparatively easy sailing ahead in the preliminary rounds, but in the feminine division it is different, because Bellbrook, Jefferson Twp. and Ross Twp., admittedly the three strong-thing, whether it be fabric or design, coloring or finish, tends to pall. So the modern plan is to strive for subtle similarities that at the same time offer a contrast. Thus in the large living room the draperies and upholstery designs various conventional floral motifs, but some of the patterns are large, all-over designs, while some are small and detached. Harmony In Line

Similarly, in the lines of the furniture there are no exact duplications, but a nice relationship in the curves of the chair-backs and legs, the silhouette of the desk, and the outlines of the tables. This has been realized because practically all of the pieces the rooms shown, how selected are representative of this idea is carried out. Then eighteenth-century English design.

Europe is indebted to the Moors or the introduction of such housefurnishing comforts as those mentioned above and many others. The Moors invaded southern Europe in the sixth century and their influence on the mode of living has been felt ever since. ,

The divan and the ottoman, by their very names, proclaim their Moorish ancestry. The Moors were comfort-loving people; they had Othe divan to recline on and the ottoman on which to place their feet. The ottoman was also used, as it now is, for a backless chair.

The Moors first used rugs on the floors-to protect their sandaled feet from the cold, hard stones. They also freely used glossy hangings and other cloths besides tapestries and brocades, to hang on their walls and to make several small compartments in one room.

Mr. and Mrs. Ibbotson were the only regular occupants of the house with the exception of five servants. Their four sons and daughters were married, and though they frequently came to stay, none of them had done so within the preceding ten days. On the previous afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ibbotson had driven down to their eldest son's house in Surrey, to spend a couple of nights. Before they left, Mr. Ibbotson had told Burke that he had received a telephone message which might make it necessary for him to return to London that night, but that Burke need not wait up for him. Mr. and Mrs. Ibbotson were frequently out at night until very late. It was the rule of the house, that, unless they ordered otherwise, the household went to bed. Mr. Ibbotson had a latch-key, with which he could let himself Burke, knowing of Mr. Ibbot-

The Hutchison and Gibney Co., N. Detroit St., long operated as a department store here, will open Saturday under a new merchandise policy, carrying only ready-towear articles and accessories.

The new policy has resulted in the elimination of many departments, including yard goods, notions, stoves, rugs, kitchen cabinets and household furnishings. The departments eliminated have been closed out in a sale completed Thursday.

The change has resulted in a rearrangement of remaining department stairway on the first floor has been closed and the basement will be used only for storage purposes.

Aznar (above), appointed Premier R. D. Collett and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stanfield and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Miller and has been closed and the basement

Departments on the first floor have been rearranged and will inciude a complete line of women's and children's shoes, hosiery, underwear, toilet articles, leather goods, jewelry, gloves, neckwear, nandkerchiefs, linens and a bedding department. Another innovation on the first floor will be a department carrying an inexpensive line of women's ready-to-wear and millinery which will be located in the rear of the store on the south

Arrangement of the departments on the second floor will not be changed and women's ready-towear, millinery, infants' wear and underwear will be carried here as before, according to J. W. Gibney, proprietor.

The store will remain closed all day Friday when a rearrangement of stock will be made and will be open Saturday morning under its new policy.
